MOBILIZATION POINT OF WU'S ARMIES BOMBED

Surprise Element In Appearance of Plance From Manchuria Shifts Scene of Interest in China's Civil War

(By The Associated Press.)
TIENTSIN, Sept. 18.—The eastern extremity of the great Chinese wall, once considered an adequate defense against the Manchurian and Mongolian invaders, was being pelted today from the air by Chang Tso-Lin aviators from Mukden, principal city of Manchuria. The aviators appeared over the city at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

Reports received here from Shan-haiwan did not tell of the damage done by the bombers, but a raid from the air could be expected to damage the defending armies.

Shan-haiwan, located midway between Peking and Mukden, divides Chihli province from Manchuria. It contains a gate in the Chinese wall known to antiquity as "the first gate."

The surprise element in the appearance of planes and the heavy concentration of Mukden and Peking forces against the Manchurian war shifted from Shanghai where rival factions are fighting for possession of that city, to the Chihli-Manchurian border, where General Chang Tso-Lin's Manchurian war effort will attempt to wrest from the Peking administration control of the government of all China by invading Chihli province where Peking is located.

MAN HELD FOR EXTORTION IN ROBBERY CASE

Had Offered to Give Information About Stolen Gems.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—An ex-convict has been arrested when offering to give information about jewels stolen from Miss Edith Bobe, a fashionable modiste, and her escort, Robert L. Hague, Standard Oil official, were held up by four masked men in the hallway of Miss Bobe's apartment.

Montagu, who was recently a civil engineer, was arrested last night charged with extortion after he had accepted $400 in marked bills from Miss Bobe's secretary. The police say he admitted serving a four-year term in Sing Sing for grand larceny. He declared that he really knew about the jewels but that he could not convince Miss Bobe's secretary that he did. The jewels were valued at $50,000.

The police increased their efforts to capture the robbers when they were informed that two weeks ago four persons, including a woman, were waylaid in the hallway of an apartment house in Fifth avenue and robbed of $10,000 worth of jewelry.

Secrecy surrounded the identity of the victims but it was learned that Seymour D. Ehrlich, son of a reputed millionaire, was a member of the party. He was host to a man and two women at a downtown restaurant.

The robbery occurred in the Tower of the apartment house where Mr. Ehrlich lives with his mother.

Miss Bobe left the city hurriedly yesterday after someone called her on the telephone and threatened to take her life if she did not cease giving assistance to the police.

Detectives are checking up the guests at Miss Bobe's birthday party last Saturday in the theory that one of them tipped off the robbers.

Coolidge Reviews Quantico Marines

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—President Coolidge left his desk for a while this morning to review the long file of Quantico Virginia marines, returning through here from their annual maneuvers near Fredericks, Maryland.

The line of march led through the White House grounds, with the President and Mrs. Coolidge and high officers of the navy and army reviewing the procession from the south portico.

Only a few visitors were on the president's engagement list today as he directed his attention to preparing the annual budget just now of most pressing interest.

R. M. C. Begins New Session

(By The Associated Press.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 18.—Randolph Macon Woman's college began the 1924-25 session today with an enrollment of approximately 800 young women students who represent twenty-seven states and two foreign countries. Most of the students reached the campus yesterday and last night, and class work began this morning. The enrollment is the largest in the history of the college.

CITY COUNCIL INSPECTS ALL MUNICIPAL PLANTS DURING 3 HOUR VISIT

Members of the city council accompanied by the mayor and a group of city officials spent three hours yesterday afternoon inspecting the municipal properties and developments. The tour was conducted by the city engineer and terminated at five with a visit to the City Home on the occasion of its formal opening when a reception was held by the King's Daughters. Individual members of the council expressed gratification that the trip had been undertaken. Some of them frankly admitted that they were not aware of the diversity or scope of municipal enterprises nor of the gradual expansion of the city. The tour was a valuable experience which will be a handsome income for the city treasury. One or two of the members felt that it would be a good thing if the citizens themselves would, from time to time, drop in at the plants and see for themselves what is being done. The purpose of the visit was to acquaint the new council with the city undertakings so that they might discuss their further development with greater intelligence than would be possible without first personally inspecting them.

Four Races On Program Today

(By The Associated Press.)
TOLEDO, Sept. 18.—Four races are on the grand circuit program here today. The News Bee race with a purse of $3,000 will be the feature event. The other races carded are the 2:13 trot, the 2:07 trot and the 2:09 trot. The 2:13 race, scheduled for today, will be raced on Friday. Weather and track conditions for this afternoon's events are good.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Hale Holden, of Chicago, president of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad company has been elected a director of the North American Reassurance company.

LOOK HERE, FAT FOLKS: FORTY POUNDS CARVED OFF BODY OF STOUT MAN

(By The Associated Press.)
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 18.—Maurice Goodman, reported to be a New York theater owner, was on an operating table here for 24 hours yesterday while Dr. J. W. Case of this city sliced nine inches off his "bay window." Goodman will return to New York 40 pounds lighter than when he arrived here, his physician declares.

Dr. Case was so enthusiastic concerning the success of the operation that he believes the physicians of the country will be able to do a thriving business in budgetary commensurate fat. It will be possible, Dr. Case declares, to make slim, graceful men out of the fattest.

DANVILLE CHEST APPEAL WILL BE STAGED NOV. 17

Budget Committee Now Ready to Receive
Various Quota

Preparations are being made for the annual campaign in the city to raise funds for the Community Chest, which represents nine voluntary organizations depending upon donations from the public in carrying on their work.

Wayles R. Harrison, chairman of the budget committee, said this morning that he was anxious to secure the budgets of the participating organizations in order that they may be carefully studied. The committee, he says, will revise these budgets in order to bring the sum total to be asked at the hand of the people to the lowest possible figure or below $70,000 asked last year.

The directors will meet early next month for the purpose of effecting permanent organization. One member from each participating organization has been placed on the board. It has already been determined to stage the appeal for funds on November 17th, the campaign to last one week. Participating organizations are the Young Men's Christian Association, The Young Women's Christian Association, Boy Scouts, Community Welfare Association, Salvation Army, Trinity Aid, Hilltop Sanatorium, Danville Library and Danville Red Cross.

Halifax Man Hurt In Auto Accident

HALIFAX, Va., Sept. 18.—Russell Hughes, son of R. B. Hughes of Halifax, was badly hurt Tuesday night in an automobile accident on the road between Halifax and South Boston. Mr. Hughes was returning from South Boston and on meeting another car whose driver refused to give the required amount of space for passing, he was forced to leave the road and the shoulder being soft from rain, his car rolled down a fifteen foot embankment, pinning Mr. Hughes beneath and completely demolishing the car. The accident was reported by F. R. Edmondson, of South Boston who rescued Mr. Hughes and brought him to Halifax. Doctors were summoned but last night were unable to determine the full extent of his injuries as he was suffering intensely.

PRINCE'S FIST

The Prince of Wales was on hand to help welcome the "round-the-world" flyers when they arrived in New York. He arrived at Mitchell Field fully half an hour before the planes came in. His highness is seen here in animated conversation, emphasizing his points with his fist.

Davis Club Subscriptions

In order to promote the cause of Democracy throughout the nation and to bring the candidacy of John W. Davis before the people adequately, Davis-For-President Clubs are being organized throughout the South, all contributions being forwarded to national democratic headquarters to be used judiciously. R. A. James, Jr., who was recently appointed chairman of the Danville club, has named Mattland Bustard as treasurer, and subscriptions are beginning to come in in encouraging fashion. Checks should be mailed to Mr. Bustard, care Register and Bee. The following have thus far responded:

Wheeler Leaves For Cleveland

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 18.—Scheduled to carry his Ohio campaign into the cities of Toledo and Columbus, Senator Wheeler of Montana, vice-presidential candidate on the independent ticket, left Cleveland early today. His stay here Wednesday was marked by appearances at two separate gatherings, one at a downtown city club and the other a night mass meeting in an auditorium.

HERRIOTT HAS CLOSE CALL AT HANDS OF MOB

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 18.—Premier Herriot of France, narrowly escaped injury in Marseilles last night when 200 communists, shouting "amnesty" made a determined effort to surround and mob the premier in the Rue Canabiere, the main thoroughfare of the southern city, members of the premier's party declined today on his arrival here.

M. Herriot was reached from the excited crowd only after the police who arrived belatedly upon the scene, had forced back the mob and dispersed the gathering.

NO SUB OFFICE FOR TAG ISSUE IS LIKELY HERE

Local Privilege Has Been Abrogated, Diggs Is Told
by Richmond Official

E. R. Diggs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has returned to the city after going to Charlottesville, where he made an address before the Chamber of Commerce. While away he sought to see J. M. Hayes state motor vehicle commissioner with reference to securing the opening of a sub-office for the issuance of license tags and for the registration of car titles. Mr. Diggs said he was unable to see Mr. Hayes but was introduced to Deputy Goodlake who offered the Danville man practically no encouragement. Complaints by Danville dealers appears to have created a sore spot in the commissioner's mind in Richmond and the privileges granted the Crowell Auto Company to issue licenses has been abrogated and the commissioner does not appear to be inclined to transfer to anybody else in this city. Mr. Diggs says he was told that the office force in the commissioner's headquarters has been increased and that it is now preparing to deal more extensively with requests for tags and for titles and that Danville motorists will have to file their requests with the head office.

Deputy Commissioner Goodlake is quoted as saying that applications for tags made here have been held up in Danville and that it was not through any fault of the commissioner that local car purchasers have been unhampered to come for tags and titles. Mr. Diggs' interview was not a satisfactory one from the Danville point of view and there seems at present little likelihood of Mr. Diggs' permitting the opening of a sub-office in Danville.

Hope of being able to secure a sub-office for Danville has not been entirely abandoned, said Mr. Carter, who is expected to arrive in Danville for the purpose of conferring personally with Mr. Hayes. Mr. Carter was formerly in the automobile business and he believes that he can convince him of the desirability of opening an office. One in existence in Lynchburg where motorists can purchase license plates, and in North Carolina the State government has sub-offices in many of the larger cities, and would be glad to furnish and greatly expediting the task of conforming with the license tag law.

The State is understood to have allowed the Crowell Auto Company 25 cents for each license issued and this amount it is believed would pay for the maintenance of an office here during the year's rush period. It would probably mean the issuance from this point of at least 1,000 tags to the Danville area.

77TH ANNIVERSARY OF BETHESDA LODGE WILL BE CELEBRATED FRIDAY

Bethesda Lodge No. 41 Independent Order of Oddfellows—"The Mother Lodge of Southside Virginia"—will tomorrow night celebrate its 77th anniversary with appropriate rites in the Pythian hall on South Union street. Not only will a brief history of the Danville organization in the membership roll of which is to be found many of the most successful men of this community, but George B. Jones of Spotsylvania, Grand Warden of Virginia, will be on hand to deliver an address.

The meeting will be held at 7:45 o'clock, the programme providing music by the Westbrook orchestra, and the invocation by Rev. Earl C. Lewis, Charles Orchard, one of the oldest living Bethesda Lodge members, has been asked to furnish the history of the lodge after which Grand Warden Jones will be introduced for his address. Rev. G. W. M. Taylor, pastor of Cabell Street Methodist church will also make an address. Rev. J. C. Hall will discuss the broad subject of "Fraternity." Later refreshments will be served and following more music and a number of impromptu responses to expressions from the members the closing will be sung. George S. Moore has been appointed organist and Miss Lillian Morrison will be pianist.

Statesmen and Jurists at Geneva Leaving Nothing Undone to Construct a Protocol Which Will Really Make For Peace.

(By The Associated Press.)
GENEVA, Sept. 18.—Plugging up every hole in the covenant of the League of Nations so that nobody can crawl out and have an excuse to start a war, is the picturesque phraseology now used in Geneva to describe the efforts of the statesmen and jurists to construct a protocol which will really make for peace.

Paragraph eight of article 15 of the covenant declares that "If the dispute between the parties is claimed by one of them, and is found by the council to arise out of a matter which by international law is solely within the domestic jurisdiction of that party, the council shall so report and shall make no recommendations to it."

This is regarded as negative and as leaving a hole in the covenant which must be plugged. Raoul Fernandez, of Brazil, M. Politis, of Greece, and M. Loucheur, of France, have been charged with this plugging operation.

The French are of the opinion that the council is unanimous in declaring any dispute purely a domestic question, all the members of the league must accept the decision and engage solemnly not to make the issue involved a cause for war.

Although making no change in the position they have held for the last week and although they are careful to reiterate that Great Britain intends to stand by the covenant and all its sanctions, the British delegates in the last 24 hours have given indications of a tendency to avoid comment on the progress of the assembly.

William Nowlin Dies in Lynchburg

(By The Associated Press.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., Sept. 18.—William D. Nowlin, 88 years old, for more than fifty years deputy city treasurer, died at his home early today of senility. He was born here September 1836 and at the time of his death was the oldest resident who lived his entire life in Lynchburg. He was in the artillery service of the Confederacy. The body of the old war veteran was buried in the city cemetery.

DRY FOM NEWS

DRY FOM, Va., Sept. 17.—Everything is very quiet in the community, considering the fact that the co-ops just made a payment Monday.

There is a great deal of complaint from the tobacco farmers, of their tobacco not curing well, since the weather has been so cool and damp. However, many of them have finished cutting and report that their crops are really better than was expected before cutting time.

Most of the cotton farmers report that their cotton is looking good and that the corn crop is only fairly good.

Aurilian Elliott has recently removed the banks, which made the intersection of the State Highway and the county road, at Oakland church so dangerous.

Owing to the rain last Sunday morning the attendance of the Oakland Sunday School was very small. But four of the teachers and enough scholars to have the lesson were present and the day was not lost.

The lesson was first taught as usual and then each member was given the privilege of expressing their own opinion of it.

There was preaching by the presiding elder Sunday evening. The quarterly conference was held at Oakland on Monday. The meeting was fine. First all the business was attended to and afterward dinner was served.

There were only a few changes made. At Oakland W. W. Worley was removed from the board of stewards, by his own request, and Aurilian Elliott was elected in his place.

Miss Scollie Witt left for her home in Waynesboro, Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Oakes were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Payne, of Danville.

Miss N. T. Cox spent Saturday and Sunday in Gretna.

Misses Carrie and Selma Crane, of Danville, were the week-end guests of Misses Myrtle and Earla Elliott.

Chiropractic

WHAT IS IT?

QUESTION—What is Chiropractic and just what does the Chiropractor do when he gives an Adjustment?

ANSWER—Chiropractic teaches that behind all spiritual, mental, and physical expression there is an innate intelligence that expresses itself in the functioning of all parts of the human body. It is this innate intelligence that performs its functions through the brain and nerve system. We say that health is the normal expression of function, and disease is the result of some interference with the nerves through which function is conveyed. That this interference occurs in 95 per cent of cases at the point where the nerves leave the spine and is due to pressure of one of the small, movable bones of the spine. Upon adjustment of this bone to its normal position, the power within, functional energy, as we term it, the power that performs all the functions of the body, again expresses itself normally in what is termed health. If you are not enjoying perfect health—

FRANKS CASE EMPHASIZES DIFFICULTY OF GETTING A MAN HUNG

Expert Criminologists Express This Belief on Hearing Caverly's Decision—Only One Execution in 146 Killings in Chicago.

(By ROBERT T. SMALL
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Expert criminologists in this city who have been making an intensive study of crime records throughout the United States, professed today to see in the sentence of young Leob and Leopold to life imprisonment just another evidence of the difficulty in this country of sending anybody to the gallows. It long has been said of Chicago that it holds a record of a murder a day and a hanging a year. Life insurance companies, hard hit by the homicide epidemic which has been sweeping the country the past few years, have found that in an investigation of 146 killings there was out one execution.

The criminologists, however, see one ray of hope in the prominence with which the slayers of the Franks boys were brought to trial. They have always held that sureness and swiftness of punishment would be a greater deterrent to crime than sporadic severity of sentence. Of course, there was no want reason in the Franks case why they should have been unusual delay. He case against the boys was clear; they had confessed; the evidence was quick in hand, but in order that the public demand for quick action might be met it was pressed to advance the Leob and Leopold cases over literally scores of other murder cases waiting to be tried either the first or second time.

The meeting of the American Bar Association on the other side of the water this summer was expected to develop a demand for a revision of practices in the criminal courts of this country. English judges have said and said it is not of record that many mistakes have been made. A study of recent crime records in London showed that out of thirteen murders there had been twelve executions and one man committed to the insane asylum. No community in the United States could ever boast such a record.

The lawyers returning from London seem to have brought with them a great admiration for the English criminal justice system, but no consensus of opinion as to what needs to be done in this country.

Here there are so many safeguards placed about a defendant that even the humblest of them, with volunteer counsel only, often escape final judgment from the bench for a period of from two to three years. Lawyers frequently blame their fellow lawyers for the long delays. It has been held that any criminal with money enough to employ clever counsel can so delay court proceedings in his case that public demand for punishment cases and a maudlin sentiment is created which influences the minds of the jurors eventually chosen.

Chief Justice Taft, of the United States Supreme Court, once held that the American people were justified in their desire to see the criminal and to the part of the accused man. Naturally the quest of the modern lawyer with a quick client, is to create a favorable atmosphere about the murder case. The case name and requires the employment of every skilled and experienced lawyer. Given the array of counsel on the one side and a successful plea of insanity or insanity on the other, the case is held in a state of suspense, the case is held in a state of suspense, the case is held in a state of suspense.

million dollars. Two recent trials in Westchester county, both of which resulted in acquittals, cost the county about $150,000 apiece. What they cost the wealthy defendants, no one knows.

The grounds for new trials and the grounds for appeals to higher courts are so numerous in this country that money alone is needed to delay a final judgment. This condition not only holds true in the criminal courts. It is equally true in the civil courts and the poor litigant seldom has any chance against a corporation or a wealthy opponent. Then, too, the rules of evidence in this country are so loosely drawn that all manner of seemingly extraneous matter is permitted to be introduced to the bewilderment of the court as well as the jury. There evidently is no way to curb the evil of "expert testimony," although several starts have been made in that direction in certain States. Doctors have introduced to the jury the results of their analyses, but as in the case of the lawyers, they have found so many members of their profession profiting heavily by the existing practices that progress is made painfully difficult if not impossible.

Lawyers in this city who followed the Leob and Leopold hearings in Chicago were amazed at the patience of Chief Justice Caverly in listening to the "advice" presented to him by the defense. Dr. Darrow's long full credit for the social system of the world today is all wrong. He believes that the laws are archaic and therefore he disdained to deal with the law whenever he can get away from it. Criminals who are entitled to pity rather than to execution. Darrow is a forceful orator, a convincing logician along his own peculiar lines and he more than often sets his viewpoint over with courts and listen to his sophistries. Darrow's belief that Leob and Leopold were victims of a social system that is all awry is not questioned. He has followed him through famous trials and he said, should not be punished for an environment which led them on to kill. Rather the cause for the crime should be rooted out. It was easy for a man who has held advanced views to argue along that line.

Acquitted Slayer Of Soviet Envy In Trouble Again

(By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, Sept. 17.—Maurice Conrad, acquitted slayer of the Soviet Envoy Vorovsky, was arrested early today in a bar while brandishing a revolver and threatening to fire upon the dancing girls.

Conrad put up strong resistance to the police. He is believed to have been under the influence of a drug.

Maurice Conrad, a Swiss engineer, assassinated Vorovsky, the Soviet envoy, in a bar in Paris last year. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but was released after serving only a few months. He is now being held in a Swiss prison.

RATE OF BIRTHS OUT OF WEDLOCK IN VA. IS HIGH

Vital Statistics as Compared With Other States Given In Report Issued

(By The Associated Press)

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18.—While there are two states, North Carolina and Utah, that have some of the highest birth rates than Virginia, for several years Virginia led in the number of births out of wedlock, according to W. A. Plecker, registrar of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics in a statement issued here today through Carter W. Wormeley, head of the State Publicity Bureau.

In 1921, however, says Dr. Plecker, after South Carolina and Mississippi with higher negro population were admitted to the registration area, those states, with the District of Columbia, exceeded Virginia, with Maryland and North Carolina following. Maryland, the District of Columbia, and South Carolina, exceeded Virginia in their colored illegitimate rate, but Virginia holds the distinction, he declares, of having the highest white illegitimate birth rate of all the states in the registration area, with South Carolina a close second.

The statement continues: "In 1923 there were recorded in Virginia 63,438 living births, 3,943 out of wedlock, of which 266 were born dead. This represents one birth to every 14.5 living children born of married parents. Of the white mothers, one of every forty-five was unmarried, while of the colored, the ratio reached the remarkable showing of one to every 10. The total illegitimate rate is said to be more than thirteen times that of Rhode Island. This information is given to the public, says Dr. Plecker, as much as a striking item of news, as for the purpose of directing the matter forcibly to the attention of parents, teachers, preachers, and law-makers.

Many contributing causes lead up to the condition set forth above, thinks Dr. Plecker, such as the "modern" dance, suggestive literature, together with unchaperoned automobile drives of young couples at night. Men and women are having more faces and undignified bearing of many women of the present day, invite liberties from the other sex which would never have been thought of in the days of their parents and grandparents. Dr. Plecker recalls that Jezebel painted her face and went literally and actually to the dogs, as recounted in 11 Kings. In the final analysis, however, the troubles originate in the home, thinks Dr. Plecker, and it is due to the failure of the parents to inculcate in the minds of the young high ideals of morality and of propriety. Changed conditions of life, such as force the postponement of marriage, are not an inherent cause of the trouble, he thinks. Dr. Plecker referred to the fact that the population of Rhode Island is today large foreign, remarking that such people invariably marry young.

Looking to the future for correction of the legal action which would seem to guarantee the most in solving the problem, thinks Dr. Plecker, lies in compelling the father to share the burden of the child. He is urging him to bear the expense connected with the birth and maintenance of the child. The Swedish law which divides the responsibility where more than one man is involved, prevents evasion and will cause men to think twice before incurring such risks.

"In conclusion," Dr. Plecker said: "It is believed after a careful study of the situation that such a law as that which I have sketched out is a far-reaching in preventing much of the shameful race intermixture which will otherwise continue unchecked." He referred to what is known as the Racial Integrity law as an advanced step in racial legislation, which statute he thought might well be supplemented by legislation compelling the father to share with the mother the responsibility of the illegitimate child."

Fred N. Harrison Heads Universal

Fred N. Harrison, a former Danville man, but more recently of Richmond, has been chosen president of the Universal Tobacco company, succeeding J. P. Willingham, its former president. Mr. Willingham is now located in New York city.

Mr. Harrison is a brother of Dr. C. Harrison of this city, a son of James D. Harrison, now a Richmond banker. He and Mr. Willingham are directors of the Universal company, as is J. Pinckney Harrison, another Danville young man, who is a son of James P. Harrison. The Universal Tobacco company, which was one of the firms or corporations merged into the Universal.

The Universal Tobacco company is a large financial concern and has built up a large business in tobacco. Its chairman reports a gratifying increase of the sinking fund and other evidence of prosperity.

FUNDS CONTRIBUTED TO DAVIS-BRYAN CAMPAIGN

The following are the first contributions reported to R. A. James, chairman for Danville of the National Democratic Finance committee of funds for the campaign to elect Davis and Bryan president and vice president:

HE MAPPED FLIGHT COURSE

By HAROLD B. MATSON

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 18.—Never heard of Robert J. Brown, did you? Well, he is a Lieutenant in the army air service. He made the round world flight possible, yet he has received no cheers and gets little credit outside of army or service circles. Now he is the modest commandant of the Boston airport.

It was Lieut. Brown who practically directed the whole flight. Two years before the men hopped off Lieut. Brown started blazing their trail on paper. He studied weather conditions. He studied geography. He had to delve into international diplomatic relations. He studied transportation routes. He worked out every detail for the entire journey.

When the planes were ready to hop off last March, there was not a detail of preparation left undone.

The flyers knew, by the word of their "road guide," a thick volume of information that there were two or three emergency landing fields on the way to the next scheduled stop. They knew that gas and oil awaited them wherever they landed. They knew that in Chignik there would be alcohol and special oil to protect their engines in the cold.

At Attu, as elsewhere, there would be huge supply chests containing everything they might need—from a shoe lace to a propeller shaft. There would always be a welcoming committee. Warm rooms and food were assured.

Over water they had pantoons, and when they reached land again their land gear would be on hand.

Along their water route there were such buoy had a cork line floating so that they could readily make fast.

These and countless other details were arranged long in advance under the direction of Lieut. Brown.

"We wanted it to be a sure thing," he explains, "and it wasn't worth while to skimp on details. Speed was not the goal. We wanted to complete the journey in 'safety' and with as many planes as possible."

And all the while that the men flew Lieut. Brown sat in Washington, following them mile for mile on his map.

He tells of his part in the flight modestly, seeming to be unaware of the important part he played in it. (However, he does enjoy telling of the ingenious supply chests he salted along the route. Each was divided in drawers and compartments and each had an index telling in what drawer and compartment things could be found.)

"After the men passed over a division the divisional advance agent retraced his steps and picked up the unused supplies," Brown explains. "The flight cost will be within the $50,000 appropriation through this and other recommissions, but nothing was spared to insure the success of the flight."

Why didn't Brown go on the flight? "The Government wanted it to be a bachelor affair," he answers, "because of the perils involved—and I'm not a bachelor."

FATHER OF ELOPING GIRLS NOT IN FORGIVING MOOD

By IMOGENE STANLEY

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 18.—The Winthrop heiresses, Emily and Kate, did not leave a farewell letter to their millionaire father, Greenville Lenox, before they eloped with the village electrician but left the austere old man without a word of explanation.

So infuriated were the two girls with the chauffeur and the electrician with whom they are now mooning in northern New England, that they threw everything else to the winds, even the duty and devotion they had given their father during long years of repression.

So infuriated were the two girls by the romance matters to them, according to a friend who has known them intimately since they were children and who has been in touch with Winthrop since the double elopement last Saturday, that they left no letter for their father but told their plan of reckless flight to their governess who pleaded with them not to go. But she could not stop them. Position, duty, money, nothing could stop them. Cut to the chase, the chauffeur and the electrician, old Winthrop has given no indication of any desire to look upon his daughters again. Winthrop has made no effort to communicate with them or to overtake them, said this close friend. Nor will he make the first advance. He does not speak of them.

No word has come from either of the girls, nor Mrs. Corey Lucan Miles and Mrs. Darwin S. Morse, to the big house where Winthrop goes silently about his 200 acre estate, inspecting his pedigreed dogs and his shrubbery on this magnificent estate, the stately philanthropist will never receive the former chauffeur and electrician, nor will he ever accept them, according to his intimates. He may, if the girls return to seek his forgiveness and a reconciliation, consent to see them, but his class consciousness will never allow him to welcome their husbands into the family, it is said.

It was the love affair between young Morse and Kate, who is much younger, that turned the wistful thoughts of Emily, who is thirty-one, to love and stirred her suppressed romantic desires. Young Morse and Kate decided to elope first, it is declared, and Emily, desperate in her loneliness, turned to Miles, the widower chauffeur and electrician, to help her.

"Emily's situation is tragic," said a friend today. "The other affair may last, may have a chance for happiness. But not Emily's."

MEMORIAL INSTEAD OF GENERAL HOSPITAL

The building committee of the new hospital held a meeting last night at which the plans for the building were finally approved by the committee, subject to the approval of an expert architect particularly experienced in hospital plans.

The committee also adopted a resolution suggesting to the Ladies Benevolent Association that the name of the institution be changed from General hospital to Memorial hospital, it being an acknowledgment of and memorial to the late John D. Hughes, whose philanthropy made the new institution possible.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A "rather slight" earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at Georgetown university here early this morning. The tremors began at 2:09 a. m. and lasted until 2:30 a. m. Father Tondorf, director of the seismological observatory, estimated the distance as 1,400 miles south of Washington.

ROOSEVELT'S EYES

President Roosevelt wrote the following in a issue of Outlook magazine:

"Quite unknown to myself, I was, while a boy, under a hopeless disadvantage in studying nature. I was very near-sighted, so that the only things I could see were those I ran against or stumbled over."

"When I was about 12 I was allowed to take lessons in taxidermy. It was this summer that I got my first gun and it puzzled me to find that my companions seemed to see things I was unable to read the sign, but I could not even see the letters."

"One day they read an advertisement in large letters on a distant billboard, and then I realized that something was the matter for not only was I unable to read the sign, but I could not even see the letters."

"I spoke of this to my father, and soon afterwards I got my first pair of spectacles, which literally opened an entirely new world to me. I had no idea how beautiful the world was until I got those spectacles."

"The recollections of this experience gives me keen sympathy with those who are trying in our public schools and elsewhere to remove the physical causes of deficiency in children who are often unjustly blamed for being idle or unambitious, or mentally stunted."

"Many parents are culpably negligent of their children's eyes," says Dr. J. D. Butler, "early attention to which would very often obviate lifelong anomalies, possibly injury to physical health."

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Official and social Washington is all aflutter over the report that Julia Scott Freeman, wife of the former assistant secretary of agriculture, Carl Freeman, copied from life many of the characters of her new novel, "The High Road to Honor."

Just how far she went in fitting actual characters in fiction is disclosed in the volume is the subject for breathless expectation. The suspense, however, need not be long sustained, for the volume is due from the publishers within the week, when the capital hopes and fears may be verified—or disappointed.

This new novel of social and political Washington turns upon the career of a United States senator, spurred by ambition and high idealism, who finds the straight and narrow path of honor in the public service beset by political pitfalls and himself hampered by acute private problems.

Although the situations developed in the plot probably are the composite of the experiences of half a dozen senators, rather than of any one, Washington readers will insist upon identifying and tagging each of the principal characters in the book. This bids fair to be the main diversion of the elite during the two months remaining before the return of absentee officialdom, following the election.

Why do persons of position and authority always have to "horn in" on the spotlight whenever any event in which their subordinates have achieved distinguished success is due for recognition and acclaim? Witness the arrival in Washington of the round-the-world flyers. Thousands of Washingtonians waited for hours for a glimpse of Lieutenant Smith and his fellow globe-girdling birdmen on the day of their arrival at the capital, on the last lap of their "round-the-world" flight.

For two hours prior to the arrival of the planes which the crowds wished to see, other planes of all kinds and sizes were taking off or landing on the field.

General Mason Patrick, head of the air service, had gone out with a group of "escort" planes, to guide the flyers, just as though they couldn't find Bolling Field, after having made that way over arctic and tropic wastes.

Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell, wearing spurs and carrying a swarzer stick, also was up in the air with an escort plane.

The result was that when the flyers arrived, they swept in out of the clouds in a group of a dozen or more planes which made it impossible for spectators to identify the airmen which had made the historic flight from those of the escort, carrying merely welcoming dignitaries.

A much more impressive and satisfying spectacle would have been the arrival of the three giant engineering planes alone, the sharing satellites which forced their way into the picture at the last minute spoiled the whole show.

Uncle Sam's World War bonus certificates help to perpetuate the age-old propaganda about the "glory of war." On the reverse side of the certificate, which becomes the outside as it is folded is a handsome steel engraving of a handsome soldier climbing the parapet of a neat, orderly trench, carrying a beautiful American flag.

It's a pretty, perhaps even an inspiring picture. It's art.

But even the chief of the Bureau of Engraving, which prints the certificates, brands it as bunk.

"It's not a bit like the real thing," says Maj. Wallace W. Kirby, who fought in France himself and once over the real thing, and we didn't carry any flags, either."

A POT OF GOLD AWAITS FLIERS IN CALIFORNIA

(By The Associated Press.)
SANTA MONICA, Calif., Sept. 18.—A ship-load of flowers and a pot of gold await the army's round the world fliers scheduled to arrive here next week.

The cargo of blossoms gathered by residents of the phase of the mobilization of southern California flowers which is expected to make the borders of cloverfield, from which the airmen took off, a globe girdling flight last March, a setting of colorful glory in honor of their return.

The pot of gold, symbolic to the rainbow's end is being gathered by newspapers, banks and civic organizations of various southern California cities as a bit of crystallized community applause, to be handed to the magicians of the air along with the heartfelt hurrahs of the throng actually on hand to witness and cheer their landing. Governor Friend W. Richardson of California will make the presentation.

Man, 29, Weds Woman of 72

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 18.—Jack Edward Griffith, 29, organist at a local theatre and Mary Elizabeth Fray, 72, were married this morning in the Fourth Street Baptist Parsonage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. and A. R. Love, pastor of that church.

Before the wedding Mr. Love had a conference with the couple but when they came into the parsonage he asked only one question, save to understand Mrs. Fray's story, "You have only one child, a daughter, and that she does not oppose this wedding. Is that correct?"

Mrs. Fray nodded her head in the affirmative. The bride was very nervous. She was escorted into the parsonage by Mr. Griffith and his best man.

The men held their caps in front of their faces to thwart photography, but the bride and groom were not so bashful. They also held up their arms to hide the face of the aged bride.

TEXTILE WAGE CUTS ARE CITED AGAINST G. O. P.

By GEORGE H. MANNING

(Correspondent of the Danville Bee)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 18.—News dispatches telling of a ten per cent. wage cut for eight thousand employees of the Manville-Jencks cotton mill in Rhode Island and North Carolina, indicating that similar cuts of from ten to twenty per cent. here to be made throughout the cotton textile industry, draw sharp comment from Senator A. A. Jones, of New Mexico, chairman of the Democratic national senatorial campaign committee today.

He contrasts the above disclosures in the textile situation with optimistic declarations concerning employment conditions made by President Coolidge and Republican Chairman Butler. He adds:

"President Coolidge's claim that labor is employed at higher wages than ever before is at variance with the June industrial survey of his own department of labor, which reported that wages of textile workers were then 23 per cent. lower than in 1923. The last year of the last Wilson administration, and to this is now to be added another 10 to 20 per cent. cut."

"Nor are the textile workers getting relatively more than ever before because the labor department also reported increases in living costs for June and July, so that while their wages are going down, their living costs are going up."

"Instead of maintaining the existing level of wages, the cotton mill owners, enjoying the highest level of rates the country has ever known, from the time of the passage of the high tariff on cotton products until June of this year cut the wages of their employees 23 per cent. and are now seeking to make further cuts."

Space Pressure In High School Is Re-Emphasized

Superintendent W. C. Griggs reported today that further enrollment at the public schools, especially at the high school, is causing a difficult problem and is severely handicapping a good many children. The high school enrollment has gone higher than it was last year and the space problem is a difficult one for Kenley Clark, the high school principal. The enrollment today stands at 610. At the beginning of the year, the high school of 587 were enrolled but by the end of the first term fifty had left. The opening of the second term, however, saw fifty new high school pupils, raising the enrollment to 597. In view of the increased attendance the space handicap is described as severe, notwithstanding the dwelling house adjoining the high school which is being utilized.

In the second grade classrooms, too, the space problem is being re-emphasized. In Robert E. Lee School and at Rison Park, the congestion is affording a difficult problem for in addition to the number of children promoted from the first grade, this year a large number of children in these classes, despite the emergency adjustments already made, is becoming increasingly evident and has again raised the question of subdividing the assembly hall at Rison Park and Robert E. Lee in order that the congested classes may be relieved by the establishment of new ones.

La Follette Sees Political Upheaval

(By The Associated Press)

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 18.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent candidate for President, in a signed article in his magazine today wrote:

"Day by day it becomes increasingly apparent that victory is within the grasp of the progressive citizenship of the country and that November will witness a political upheaval restoring to the American people the control of their own government."

"Reports from every section of the country bring encouragement to the progressive forces."

"It has been stated in the columns of many partisan newspapers and piped repeatedly from the platform that the primary political aim of the progressives is to prevent a decisive result on November 4 and to throw the election into Congress."

"No statement of our purpose could be further from the truth. The progressive millions of America have at this time the best opportunity of a generation to regain control not only of Congress but of the executive branch of their government."

WOULD RESTORE GEN. PERSHING TO ACTIVE LIST

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Sept. 18.—A passage of legislation necessary to restore General John J. Pershing to the active list "in order that his valuable counsel will be available to those responsible for the defense of the nation" was urged in a resolution adopted by the American legion national convention here today.

A recommendation for making defense test day an annual event set for September 12, was contained in the military affairs committee reported adopted by the convention. Legionnaires were urged to "continue their splendid co-operation" to make the day successful.

The convention also adopted the report of the naval affairs committee which urged that "our battle fleet be placed immediately on a parity with the strongest navy in the world in the matter of range and power of its guns."

Among states receiving trophies for extending 1923 membership were Florida, Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, and the Canal Zone. Florida heading the list, received the MacNider trophy presented by the local department. Greetings were read from the allied committee of Versailles.

The American legion auxiliary will elect officers today and receive committee reports, as will the 40 and 8 society.

A feature of today's entertainment will be the annual parade of the 40 and 8.

Formation of a new group of Legion, with membership restricted to legionnaires who served in the army or marine corps, was announced today. Joseph Frank, of Miami, Florida, who was chairman of the organization meeting, was named its head with the title of general.

The legion will meet next year at Omaha, Nebraska, at the same time as the American Legion gathering, when a constitution and by-laws will be adopted.

The organization was designed, its backers said, to promote better fellowship between the former marines and sailors at the national convention and to enable them to have a rallying place.

Want to Play Cancelled Game

(By The Associated Press)

NORFOLK, Sept. 18.—In a last minute attempt to beat Richmond out of the 1924 Virginia League pennant, Frank Lawrence, owner of the Portsmouth club, today asked permission to play off a postponed game with the Norfolk club Saturday morning in Norfolk.

With the season ending Saturday and Portsmouth a game and a half behind Richmond, the Truikers magazine believes that his club has a fighting chance for the pennant. Portsmouth is playing Rocky Mount and Richmond meeting Wilson in the season's closing series. If Richmond loses the game is arranged, can beat Norfolk and Rocky Mount all four games, the leading clubs will be tied for top position.

City Council Inspects Plants

men pressed wonder over the physical ability of the men employed to charge the gas retorts with coal to labor for ten hours in such interior heat. One of the colored coal shovellers has been employed for more than thirty years and in physical appearance at least gives no indication of the work telling on his system.

After negotiating the variety of pungent odors which naturally infect a gas plant the group moved to a new source of odor—the city dump just below the city. The council members, impressed by the greening and the crawling things to say nothing of the millions of flies and the sour damp vapor emitted from this pile of waste. The five minutes spent at that spot was probably the most powerful argument for the proposed incinerator that has yet been offered. They saw, too, just why the motor truck expense account of the garbage department is high with the trucks forced to drive over the uneven piles of decaying rubbish.

At the Patton street fire station the councilmen found Fire Chief L. F. Mitchell prepared to point out needed improvements, these being adequate sleeping quarters for the men who spend sleepless nights in the hot weather in an overcrowded dormitory without proper ventilation. The need of a furnace was also detailed.

The officials next moved out to the new city cemetery which is being developed at Design on land formed by the angle of the road to Design and that which branches off to Chatham. The new cemetery has already been named Highland Bural Park. T. C. Larrimore is at present engaged grading one-half of the property and laying out the drives and walkways according to blue prints drawn up by a landscape architect, F. W. Townes who played an improvement part in the acquisition of the property as chairman of the public works committee.

The council plan to make the tract equal in beauty to the Roanoke cemetery which has an almost national reputation. The graves will not take the form of monuments as in the old cemetery. The graves will be flat and marked by uniform head and footstones. Trees and shrubs will be planted according to blue prints drawn up by a landscape architect, F. W. Townes who played an improvement part in the acquisition of the property as chairman of the public works committee.

The council members then moved to the City Home arriving at the height of satisfaction that adequate care is now being given to the community charges. The building is already filled with the exception of one bed there being 25 inmates altogether. The question of adding porches to the end of either wing thus carrying out the original design was informally discussed but some of the members expressed the opinion that if it appeared to them that the plan was sound, they will prevent the future expansion of the building. Only part of the upper section has been developed on one room being afforded the upstairs but some members of the council are not in favor of developing it by putting in additional rooms since in the event of fire aged inmates would stand the chance of making their escape. Council views on this phase will be more adequately expressed when the question of making $5,000 for the two porches is formally taken up.

The building is already filled with the exception of one bed there being 25 inmates altogether. The question of adding porches to the end of either wing thus carrying out the original design was informally discussed but some of the members expressed the opinion that if it appeared to them that the plan was sound, they will prevent the future expansion of the building. Only part of the upper section has been developed on one room being afforded the upstairs but some members of the council are not in favor of developing it by putting in additional rooms since in the event of fire aged inmates would stand the chance of making their escape. Council views on this phase will be more adequately expressed when the question of making $5,000 for the two porches is formally taken up.

The council members then moved to the City Home arriving at the height of satisfaction that adequate care is now being given to the community charges. ## GIRL OF 14 IS GIVEN A PONY BY THE PRINCE

Viola Guest Jubilant While
Thousand of Other Girls
Are Jealous

By GRACE ROBINSON

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Long Island's pretty debutantes and beautiful matrons who have danced nightly with H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, may feel considerably elated over the fact. But they are not one half as jubilant as 14-year-old Diana Guest, daughter of Captain, The Right Hon. Frederick E. Guest, to whom England's future king has presented a polo pony.

The youngster, barred from the nightly gayeties of the Long Island hunt and dancing crowd because of her sub-deb years, has thus been more honored by the prince than most of her elders. The pony is an Indian bay gelding, measuring 15 hands, and admitting to eight years of age. It is called Royal Ashby. Miss Guest expects to use it for a saddle and polo pony.

The prince's almost daily participation in polo has renewed the vogue for the picturesque East Indian game. Miss Guest often plays polo at Philipps Field, always with many of the royal family, not numbered among the accomplishments of many Long Island daughters, being an extremely fast and hazardous pastime.

When not passing her summers on Long Island, Miss Guest is a school girl at Aiken, S. C. She is a niece of Lord Wimbourne, English backer of the British international polo team.

Those bally press men who had been annoying H. R. H. and his military friends by angling for Lazarus-like about the table of Dives for such crumbs of information as might drop from the cloth of the rich, awoke today to find themselves banished from the gravitational field of greatness. H. R. laid down a barrage of censorship against the Penny press.

Good Morning Judge!

The preliminary trial on charges of forgery which was to have been given to R. A. Lynch and Herman Hayden, which was to have been held this morning was continued until next Monday. When the cases were called on for the two youths were not on hand and Magistrate Carter set the hearing for a later date. Both are under bond of $250.

T. S. Chandler was acquitted of operating a car recklessly.

Guilty and fined a fine of $2.50 and costs for creating a disturbance.

Cecil Wimmer was arraigned on a warrant charging with a charge of disorderly conduct, violating his parole. The warrant was dismissed.

A warrant charging Phil Bowman with loitering, was dismissed on condition that Bowman leave town and not return.

Case Against Klan Organizer May Be Dropped

(By The Associated Press)

WINCHESTER, Va., Sept. 18.—Court action on charges brought against Dr. M. C. Altenburg, of Washington, Ku Klux Klan organizer, by Sheriff Luther Panett, may be dropped as the result of a letter today from the sheriff to the clerk in which the Klan official said that the statements complained of by Panett "were made entirely upon hearsay statements of other people." The sheriff said he regarded the letter as a "retraction" and that so far as he was concerned the need for any further legal action.

Magistrate Robert Worsley, of the city police court, to whom Altenburg sent a similar letter, declared, however, that he still sought vindication of the charges made by the Klan organizer. "If his recent speeches at Stephens City and Middleton and that he did not know what his attitude would be when Altenburg is arraigned Saturday on warrants served on him by the sheriff and himself, Altenburg is charged in his speeches that the sheriff was not enforcing the prohibition laws, and criticized Magistrate Worsley's conduct of the local police court. He added in his letter today to the two officials that "I have never given any information to you or any other official of Frederick county or Winchester upon which a warrant could be based."

The council members then moved to the City Home arriving at the height of satisfaction that adequate care is now being given to the community charges. The building is already filled with the exception of one bed there being 25 inmates altogether. The question of adding porches to the end of either wing thus carrying out the original design was informally discussed but some of the members expressed the opinion that if it appeared to them that the plan was sound, they will prevent the future expansion of the building. ## Happy Consummation of Noble Municipal Philanthropy Long Urged by Humane Sentiment

Danville's City Home, a noble municipal and community philanthropy and the tangible outcome of a long agitation for the provision of a habitable, clean and comfortable refuge for the aged, the infirm and the indigent, was formally opened yesterday, the occasion being an inspection of the now occupied building by the entire membership of the Council, the mayor, the chief of police, the city engineer, city sergeant and other officials and employees of the municipal government. It was also happily made the occasion for a house-warming and reception, arranged by the ladies identified with the Whittaker Circle of K. K. King's Daughters, which has long been faithful in its ministrations to the old almshouse, and others who have been active in the movement for the provision of just such a comfortable and creditable institution as that now attained and occupied.

The long, two-story structure crowning an eminence overlooking Dan river on the north bank of which it is situated is constructed of brick and concrete, with some frame construction in the second floor of the central portion or administrative section. To the eastward are the living quarters for the aged and infirm, the home to the westward those for the colored, while in the central-front section are the offices and reception rooms and in rear of these the two dining rooms completely equipped with new and substantial furniture, crockery and cutlery. Neatness is the most striking feature of the whole interior, an original characteristic which it will be made a constant effort to perpetuate.

Yesterday the rooms were made additionally bright and attractive by bowls and vases of colorful autumn flowers, which the ladies had arranged effectively.

Still Under Construction.
The structure itself is incomplete, arrangement having been made in the construction for additions at the east and west ends of living rooms in which the occupants of the home may meet and fraternize, converse, and diminish the tedium of life rendered less inactive and unproductive. Porches or porticoes are also to be added, thus affording ample opportunity for outdoor living and across open air, as well as the view across the river to the city on other side. Temporary and rather crude laundry work, but suitable and comfortable provision will be made for this.

The structure is equipped with running water throughout, thus affording good modern toilets, bathing facilities and the pure water necessary for drinking and cooking. This is cool, sparkling water, pumped from a limpid and free-flowing spring that gushes from the cleft of the rock above the old quarry which fronts the River road. The bath and toilet facilities are first class in plumbing and are well located, bright and clean throughout. The rooms, for that matter, for every dormitory is an outside room, with fresh ozone, sunlight and the cheerfulness it induces always available. The culinary arrangements are all that could be reasonably desired, and with proper diet carefully looked after, this very necessary equipment will be a great improvement over any heretofore programs.

Grove in Foreground.
In the foreground of the building is a grove of pines 18 or 20 feet high in many cases and affording ample but not dense shade, beneath which is a carpet of grass and at some seasons of pine-trees. This pine-grove with the fragrant healthful scent it emits intervenes between the building and the edge of the delicacy, a sheer descent almost to the shore of the river, with a wooded, green plain along the wide river-bottom between the road and the water-line. The outlook is withal restful and soothing to the eye and the mind and suggests serenity.

The house-warming, which had been arranged by the Whittaker Circle of K. K. King's Daughters and other ladies, was in the nature of a pleasant informal reception of those who availed themselves of the widely disseminated invitation to inspect the property, and while the Council and other city officials were present on that mission. It was a happy idea, felicitously carried out, and provided a welcome variation of the quiet and secluded lives of the occupants of the home. The ladies made made everything particularly spick and span, had distributed flowers effectively and were there in person with bright, happy faces to welcome those who called and to entertain them, show them around and finally to serve a bit of refreshment, this being in the form of an excellent punch which did not encroach on the inhibitions of the Laxman law.

Receiving Line.
Ladies receiving at the door included Mesdames C. C. Crews, Frank S. James, C. E. Harper and N. H. Hazelwood, while serving punch in the hall into which the entrance hall broadly opened were Mesdames F. F. Brown, W. T. Gravelly, Julian Meade, Ernest Heitzler and Mary Lee Taylor. Mrs. H. R. Fitzgerald was in the reception-room, and assisting were Mrs. Henry B. Watkins, president of the circle, Miss Betty

CAVERLY PUTS JUSTICE ON TRIAL

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—"In choosing imprisonment instead of death, the court is moved chiefly by the consideration of the age of the defendants, boys of 18 and 19 years."

"The court believes it is within his province to decline to impose the sentence of death on persons who are not of full age."

"This determination appears to be in accordance with the progress of criminal law all over the world and with the dictates of enlightened humanity. More than that, it seems to be in accordance with precedents hitherto observed in this State."

"The records of Illinois show only two cases of minors who were put to death by legal process—to which number the court does not feel inclined to make an addition."

"Life imprisonment may not, at the moment, strike the public imagination as forcibly as would death by hanging, but the extended suffering of years of confinement may well be the severer form of retribution and expiation."

So ruled Chief Justice R. Caverly of Cook county criminal court in passing sentence upon Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb, sons of millionaires.

They had pleaded guilty to the murder of 14-year-old Bobby Franks. But they asked the court to hang. So, at least, thought the court.

They went "down the road" to Joliet.

In a dingy little house, out "back of the yards" a crippled father is pleading to God that the same sentence might be meted out to his boy—a boy of 20.

He is Bartley Grant, whose son, Bernard, is awaiting execution for the slaying of a policeman during a hold-up.

"If they get off, why can't my boy?" he demands.

"The judge says they are too young to hang. Well, then why isn't Bernard too young?"

"And I know Bernard is innocent. He never was a bad boy. He never was arrested before."

"They had millions of dollars to fight their case. We didn't have a cent. And we haven't it now, either."

"It looks as if, after all, there are two sets of laws—one for the rich and one for the poor."

"But a lot of people tell me now they're not going to stand to see my son hanged, when those two rich boys got off with life."

Grant was forced to quit school at 14 to help support his family. That was after his father had lost both legs in a railroad accident.

An array of high-priced alienists testified in Leopold and Loeb's behalf. Not one testified for Grant.

Leopold and Loeb pleaded guilty—and got life.

Grand stood trial and was convicted by a jury solely on the strength of accusations made in the confession of Walter Krausner, jointly accused with him.

Leopold and Loeb were too young to hang; Grant isn't.

FORMER DANVILLE BOY WHO IS MAKING GOOD

Many friends of Clinton A. Fowler, formerly of Danville, will be pleased to know of his success in the real estate business in Asheville, N. C. Mr. Fowler left the city first of the year for Asheville to enter the real estate field and has formed a partnership with John A. Mayo, of Asheville, operating as "Fowler & Mayo", with offices in 214 Drhumor Building. This partnership, largely by reason of Mr. Fowler's efforts, has been very successful.

It might not be amiss to state that Mr. Fowler was in Danville last week consummating a transaction with T. T. Adams of this city, who has bought an acreage close to Asheville, known as part of the famous Vance property. It is understood the purchase price was in the neighborhood of $30,000.

ACCEPT WAGE OUT
(By The Associated Press.)
MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 17.—Representatives of operatives of the Amos Keag Manufacturing Company factories here, voted unanimously late today to accept a ten per cent reduction in wages. It was expected that the mills would be operated on this wage basis after October 1.

HALEY GREEN, VETERAN MOVER, DIES, AGED 70

Haley Green, one of Danville best and most generally known colored citizens, died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his home on Broad street extension, after an illness of some weeks. He was about 70 years old and for many years has been engaged successfully in the hauling and transfer business, making a specialty of moving household furniture and belongings. His reputation for care, accuracy and reliability were well known and he was highly thought of by white and colored citizens. Eight children survive him. Arrangements for the funeral had not been announced last night.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT AGAINST SHAWKEY

(By The Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—A $25,000 breach of promise suit against J. Robert Shawkey, pitcher of the New York Yankees, was filed here today by Mrs. Eulalia B. Thompson of Kansas City, who alleged the proposed marriage to her while the New York team was playing here June 7. The team is here today for a series with the Browns. Shawkey denied he had proposed to Mrs. Thompson.

Gheen Exonerated For Killing Negro

HIGH POINT, Sept. 17.—Tom Gheen, pitcher for the local Piedmont league club the past season, returned to this city last night completely exonerated from any blame in connection with the slaying of a negro near New Bern Friday night. Gheen with a party of several other young men were traveling by auto from New Bern to Kingston. About 12 miles from New Bern the car swerved to avoid hitting a negro lying prone across the road. The driver of the car, a man named Guyer, of this city, stopped the car and backed up to see what was the trouble. As the car was being backed one of the party yelled, "look out, he's got a gun." Gheen, riding in the front seat, reached in the side pocket of the car and secured a revolver. As the negro came running alongside the car, revolver in hand, Gheen yelled, "Throw up your hands." This the negro refused to do and Gheen fired three times, all three shots penetrating the upper part of the negro's body. He died almost instantly. The party then proceeded to Kingston and reported the affair to the authorities. A hearing was held next day and in view of the circumstances surrounding the shooting, the entire party was released. The negro, whose name could not be learned, was a member of a construction force at work repairing the roads of that section. He was said to have been a desperate character and to have had a police record.

HIGH POINT, Sept. 17.—Thomas (Submarine) Gheen, one of the mainstays of the High Point Piedmont league club the past season, and the stormy petrel of the diamond, may manage a baseball club in organized ball next season. If his plans materialize, Gheen will be at the helm of one of the clubs in the Kitty league, the freak delivery expert declared last night. According to Submarine, he has been offered a position at the helm of one of the clubs in the Kitty league and is seriously considering accepting the offer. The only difficulty will come from securing his release from the Pointers, and this the underhand artist is confident of doing. He is quite sure the officials of the local club will not stand in his way in the event he is able to better himself. Whether Gheen would make a good manager is a matter of conjecture. The blond-haired boxman never had a serious thought in his life and is dizzy as a showpaw off the playing field. But once he dons the habiliments of his profession, well, that's another story. Manager Hardin Herndon of the Pointers once declared that Gheen was one of the smartest pitchers in the league. He was the only hurler with the privilege of "shaking" the signals of Catcher Arnold Townsend.

Many stories are told of the eccentricities of the Submarine. Once he attempted to pitch between the legs of the bow-legged Buck Weaver, before the latter was banished from the national pastime. The pitcher struck Weaver on the leg, who promptly seized a bat and chased the Submarine from the park. Another time he was sent in to pinch hit for Frank Walker, who recently sold himself to the New York Giants. The score was tied in the ninth frame, but it didn't stay tied long, for Gheen promptly belted the ball over the center field wall and broke up a perfectly good game.

The Chinese are trained to move forward only. If a Chinaman ever steps back he is barefooted.

Shipping board has a new engine now, but an old reputation.

AMERICAN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—The New York Yankees took both games from the Browns here today, 7 to 3 and 8 to 7, thus tying Washington again for the lead in the American League.

The second game was a heavy hitting contest in which the visitors slugged five Brown pitchers for 15 hits, including doubles by Bush and Ruth, Pipp's triple and a home run by Aaron Ward, with two men on bases in the third inning. Davis, who was hurrying for the Browns, had pitched good ball up to that time.

The Browns collected 13 hits, including two doubles by Tobin and Jacobson and a home run by Jacobson in the seventh inning with two men on bases. "Bullet" Joe Bush, who started on the mound for the Yankees, was batted out of the box in the seventh and relieved by Herbert Pennock who held the locals safe for the rest of the game.

The first contest started as a hurling duel between Urban Shocker and Walter Johnson. For five innings, both sides went scoreless. Then the Yankees forced three runs over in the sixth, while the Browns fell short one of this number in their half. The Yankees added two more in each of the 8th and 9th. The locals put their final run over in the last inning.

JOHNSON HOLDS BROWNS' AND WASHINGTON WINS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17.—Washington made it two straight from Cleveland today, Walter Johnson holding the Indians to seven hits and winning a pitching duel from Sherrod Smith, 3 to 2. A wild throw by catcher Walters in the seventh inning to catch Ruel off first enabled Ruel to make third from where he scored the winning run on McNeely's single.

Washington scored two runs in sixth on an infield single by Judge, bases on balls to Boston and Harris and an error by Burns and a sacrifice fly by Bluege.

A single by Summa and a double by McNulty gave Cleveland a run in the first inning, while a single by Jamieson, bunts by Summa and McNulty and a force out gave the Indians their other in the third.

It was Johnson's 13 straight victory. He fanned six men, increasing his strike-out record for the season to 149 and his all-time record to 2,214.
Sam Rice, Washington right fielder, today hit in his 24th consecutive game, a season's record in the American league.

NINTH INNING RALLY RESULTS IN AN ATHLETIC VICTORY

DETROIT, Sept. 17.—A ninth inning rally that drove Whitehill from the box and netted four runs before Dause could stop it, gave Philadelphia a 9 to 8 victory over Detroit today. Ty Cobb, by making three hits, two of which were three bases, brought his total number of safeties for the season to 197. He needs only three more in the games remaining to be played to beat the record he holds jointly with Willie Keeler of having made 200 or more hits in eight seasons.

WHITE SOX BEAT BOSTON AND GO INTO 7TH PLACE

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The White Sox emerged from the cellar today when they launched a heavy assault against Ferguson and defeated Boston three to two. Robertson had one bad inning when the visitors scored twice. His support was better than Ferguson's. The work of Ike Davis, Columbus, Association, shortstop who reported today was the outstanding feature.

Memphis Sews Up Rag In Southern League

(By The Associated Press.)
MEMPHIS, Sept. 17.—The Memphis Chicks clinched the 1924 championship of the Southern Association when they defeated Nashville, 5 to 3 here today. Each club has four more games to play. Should Atlanta win all of its remaining games and Memphis should lose all, the Chicks would still have a lead of half a game. Counting today's victory, the Memphis club won a total of 102 games and has lost 45, for a percentage of .680. Atlanta, a serious challenger, for first place for several weeks has won 97 games and lost 53 for a percentage of .647.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RAG MAY BE WON OR LOST WITH TODAY'S GAMES

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—With the Giants, Robins and Pirates playing doubleheaders, the National League pennant may be won or lost today. By winning twice while Brooklyn and Pittsburgh lost two, the Giants would increase their lead over the former to 3½ contests and over the latter to 4½—apparently safe margin with an average of ten games left for each club to play.

But by losing two while their rivals won a brace, New York would fall a half game behind Brooklyn, into second place, only a half contest ahead of the Pirates and into a battle royal which might go on into the closing minutes of the season.

Either Pittsburgh or Brooklyn would virtually fall out of the race by losing two if the others won twice. In the meantime, Washington and New York are plying in a sustained wrestling match which the team with the last ounce of strength seems destined to win. The Yankees, by winning twice from the Browns yesterday while Washington beat Cleveland once, again tied for first place.

In the emergency, the harrassed managers will shoot their heaviest guns. The struggles at the Polo Grounds will find McGraw's brace of southpaws, the veteran Neft and the youthful Bentley opposed to Rixey and Louie of the Reds.

At Brooklyn, Manager Robinson will send the eminent Dazzy Vance in quest of his fifteenth straight victory. Bill Doak will be the second Robin hurrier to chirp belligerently at the Cardinals. The Cardinals, in eastern camp, will have a new pitcher, a new recruit and probably Meadows will walk to the hill for McKeechie.

Detroit fell six games behind the two leaders when the Athletics drove Whitehill from the box in a ninth inning rally which earned four runs and a 9 to 8 victory. Ty Cobb, by making three hits, needs only three more to break his joint major league record with Willie Keeler, of 200 or more hits in eight seasons.

The White Sox traded last place to Boston by launching a heavy assault upon Ferguson. The Sox gave them a 2 to 0 game over the Red Sox. Robertson was well supported.

The Incas.

The Incas were a highly civilized people who lived in the northwestern part of South America at the time the Spaniards discovered South America. Where they came from no one knows, though the guess is sometimes hazarded that they came from eastern Asia by way of a chain of islands that extended across the southern Pacific ocean a few thousand years ago.

Paraphrasing the suggestion has been made that when flying around the world becomes an everyday occurrence the Pacific will be crossed south of the equator and by way of so much of this chain of islands as now remains.

One reason for thinking the Incas came from Asia by way of the South sea islands is because of the prevalence of trephining. Out of every 100 skulls of the old Incas that are found in graves of Peru and nearby countries five or six are found to have been trephined.

Neither the Toltecs and Aztecs of Mexico, Arizona and New Mexico, nor the Mayas of Yucatan, Nicaragua and Honduras, nor the Indians of America generally trephined to any great extent. On the other hand, the only other peoples who trephined the skull to any considerable extent some thousands of years ago were the peoples of southeastern Asia and the South Sea islands.

Most people even today think that when the skull is trephined silver or even a gold plate is inserted. Doctors sometimes wonder who started this fantastic tale.

Dr. Leonard Freeman tells us in his article in "Prehistoric American Medicine and Surgery" in "Are and Archaeology".

In the museum at Lima, Peru, is an Inca skull which had been trephined, and into which a lead plate was then inserted. The brain, tumors, epistaxis, phinsed, brain tumors, epistaxis, phinsed, in infection of the frontal sinus they trephined and let the pus drain away.

"Although the Incas were the only early Americans who practiced the art of trephining, there was a fair satisfaction but very crude science of medicine and surgery among all the early American peoples."

"Near Mexico City they find evidence of a people who may have been Toltec, who lived about 14,000 years ago, and who resembled the Chinese in appearance. These people brought over with them the rudiments of a civilization."

KING COLLEGE GRID MEN WORKING HARD

(By The Associated Press.)
BRISTOL, Va., Sept. 17.—With thirty-five men working out regularly in the pre-season training for the past week, King College's football squad is expected to increase to over half a hundred candidates, out of the possible 105 in school, following the formal opening of college today.

Coaches Adams and Doak will begin making tentative selections for a regular team tomorrow when the varsity squad which has been training will be divided into two teams and scrimmage will start.

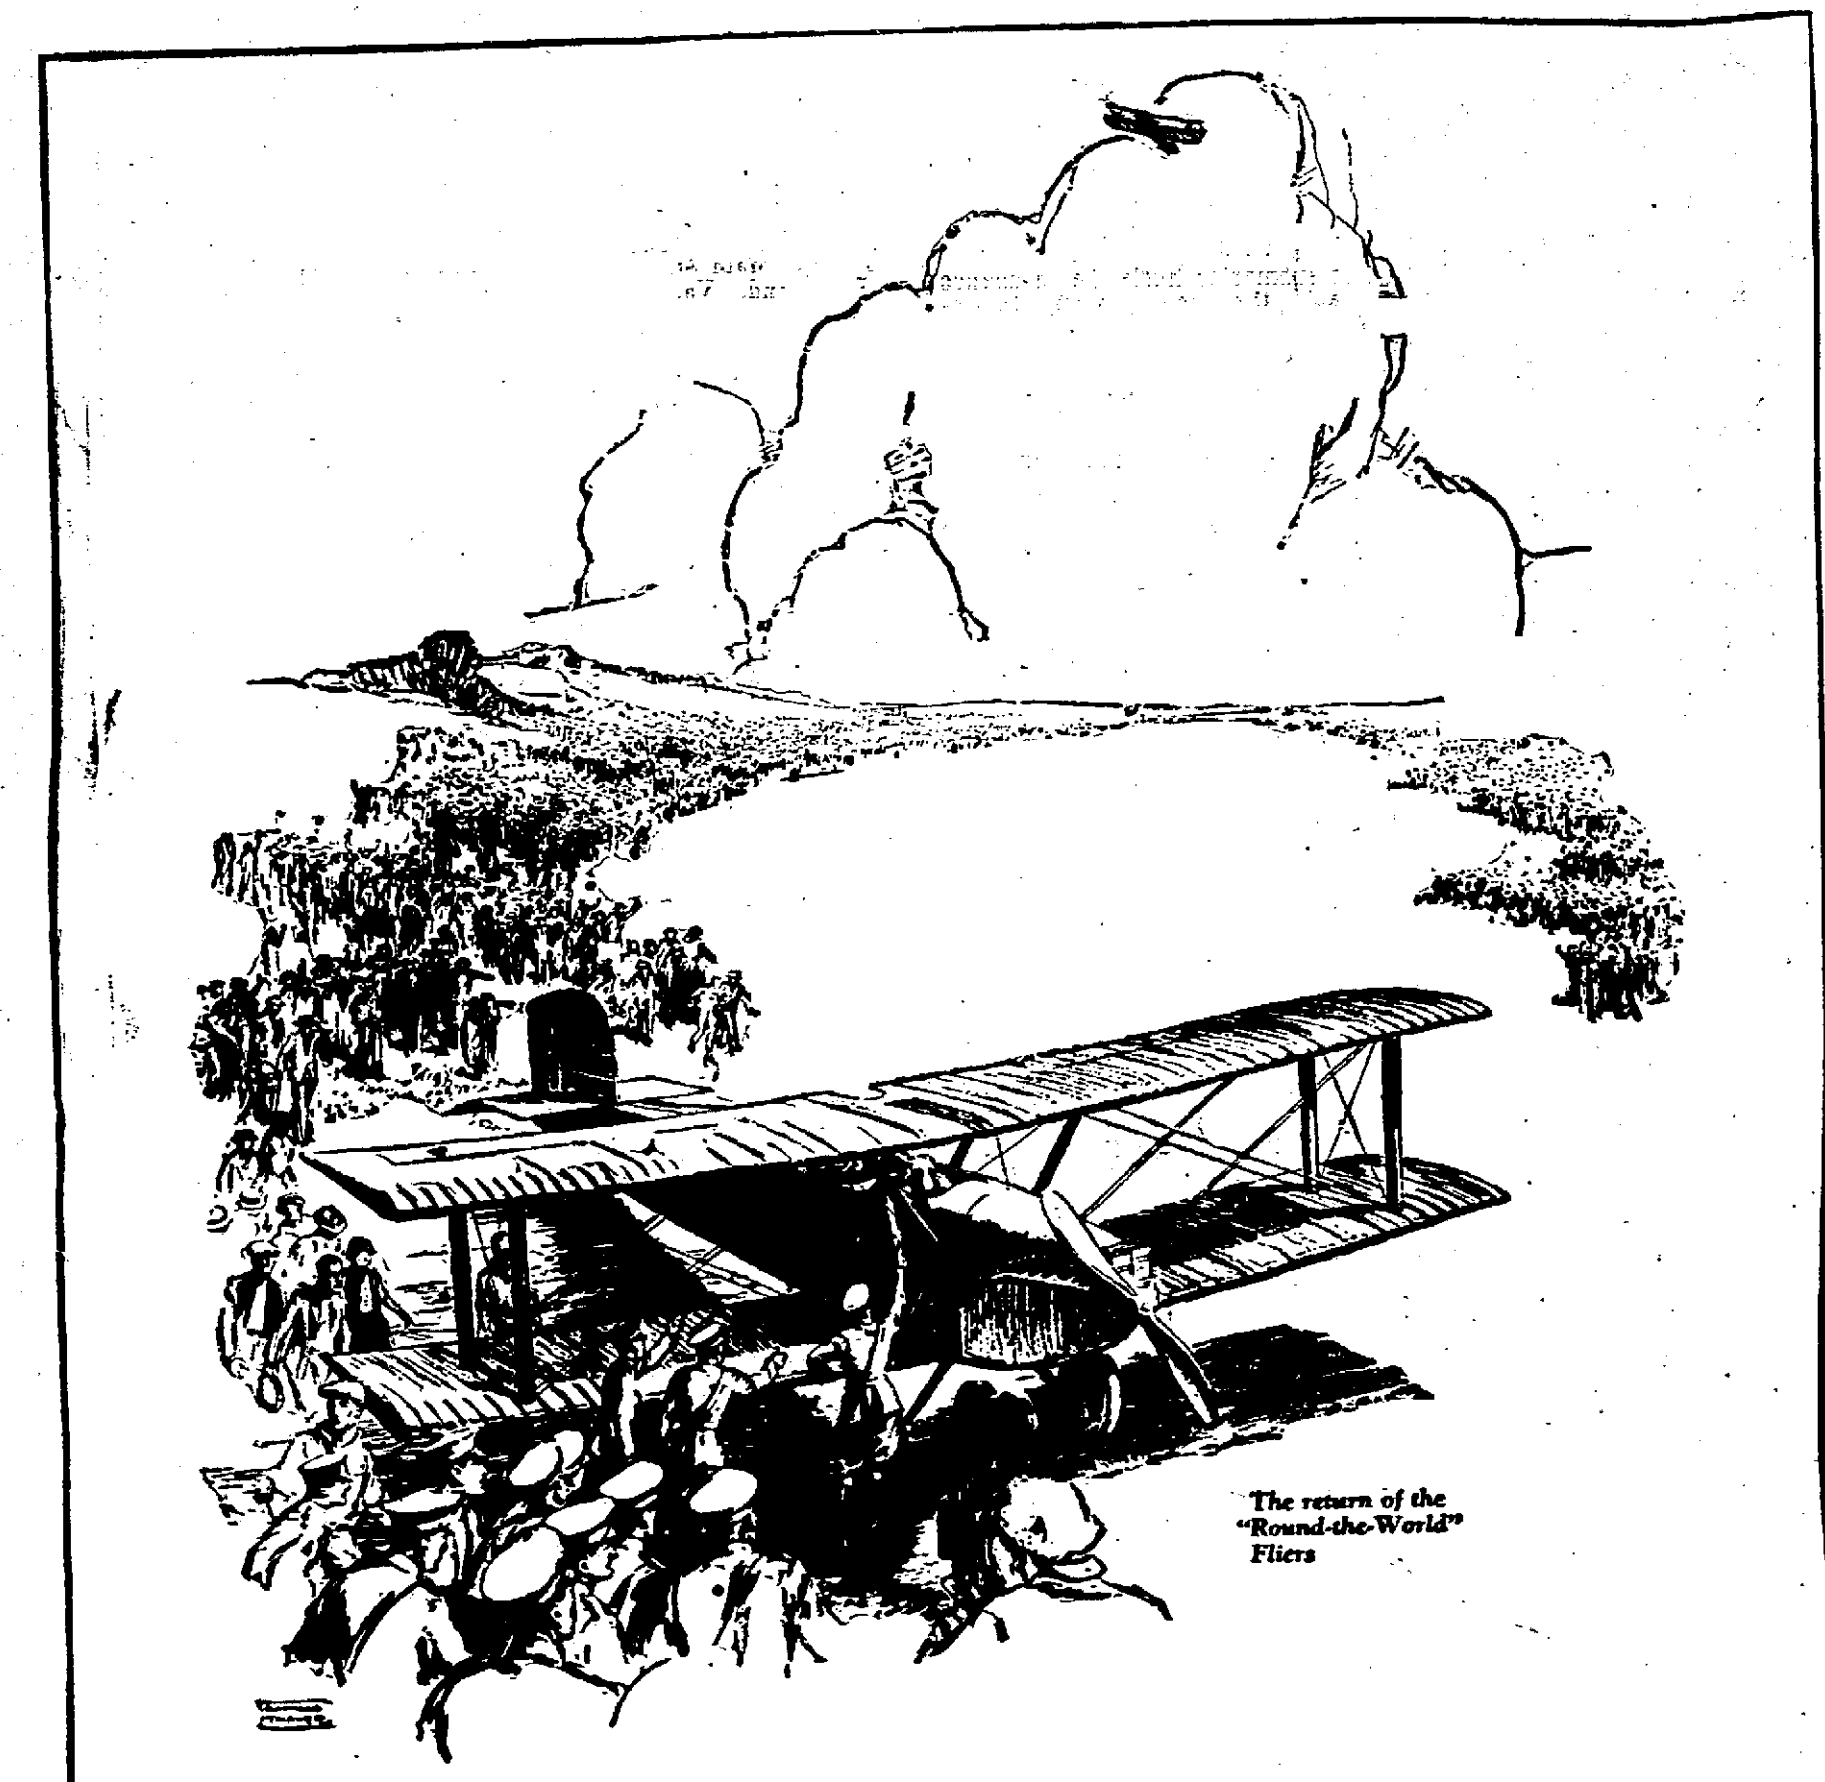

With abundant material from which to choose an eleven, King is expecting a much better team than last season when the mountain football piled up 597 points to a scant touchdown for its opponents. Two backfields, each rivaling the other in speed and ability have been working out while a line that will outweigh last seasons by ten pounds or more seems possible at the present time.

Topping all other scoring records in the last two years by scoring 1005 points in the two seasons, King will face stiffer opposition this season than it has ever before met. Four major games will be played. Georgia University at Washington, Third Army Corps at Newport News, William and Mary at Richmond and Carson-Newman at Bristol. King will open the season at Norton, Va., against Bluefield College on October 4th.

MURPHY CREDITED WITH DESIGNING RACE CARS

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—Final arrangements for the burial of Jimmy Murphy, automobile racer killed Monday at Syracuse, N. Y., were announced today. The body will reach Los Angeles at 2:15 p. m. tomorrow and will be met at the train by a delegation of Knights of Columbus. It will then be taken to the Knights of Columbus and interred, where it will be held by both the Knights and the Elks. The funeral will be held Monday morning at St. Vincent's church.

By L. C. OWEN
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—When his proverbial "luck of the Irish" deserted him at Syracuse on Monday and they lifted the lifeless body of youthful Jimmy Murphy, American speed king, from his battered racing car, death probably served to give him a niche in the hall of fame which his bashfulness denied him in his lifetime.

However, it will not be as a daring automobile race driver—two times all-American champion, the only Yankee ever to invade Europe and win the famous French grand prix—that Murphy may be remembered. Death has served to reveal that great as he was as an automobile racing pilot, the diminutive San Francisco boy who got his first speed thrill by surreptitious rides on clanging San Francisco fire engines was even more efficient as an automotive engineer.

The seemingly born mechanical genius, Murphy, today is being credited by automobile racing men with a knowledge of the design of two different types of automobile racing engines which, during the past four years, have swept everything before them in the big American races. They are the Deussen type, which until two years ago won almost every American racing event in which it was entered, and the "Miller Special" which in the last two years has proven a sensation both in American and in foreign automobile races.

It was the last named car, said to be almost entirely the product of Murphy's uncanny understanding of gas combustion on engines, with which he beat the best European drivers a year ago in the great Grand Prix.

Hitherto little known facts about the San Francisco boy's entry into the racing game, and the service which he rendered the government during the war, attest the fact that he really was a mechanical genius of rare attainments.

Murphy's introduction into auto racing came when he was only sixteen. Eddie O'Donnell, once famous race driver, scheduled to enter a big race in Southern California was having trouble with his car. Murphy saw O'Donnell working over his crippled motor and volunteered a suggestion, which solved the difficulty. After that he helped O'Donnell for a few days. Then O'Donnell offered him a regular job as race mechanic. The San Francisco boy's genius was apparent even at that time, for O'Donnell wired the Deussen factory, for which he was then driving, "have just hired greatest auto mechanic ever met."

Murphy remained as mechanic to O'Donnell until the latter met with an accident and was killed. He then became racing pilot manager. At the outbreak of the war his fame as a mechanical genius had so spread that the government drafted him and put him in complete charge of the Deussen factory. Murphy is said to have designed and built the Deussen airplane engines hundreds of which were used during the war.

The San Francisco boy's first essay as a race driver came as a result of changes he suggested in the Deussen racing engines after the war. He asked and gained permission to drive a machine, carrying some of the changes he suggested, in the races at Uniontown, Pa. Something went wrong before the race which he was unable to complete. On the Beverly Hills course in Southern California, a month later, however, he drove the same machine to victory over the best race drivers of the country. Since then he had been America's most consistent race driver.

TUNNEY AND GREB FIGHT TEN ROUNDS TO A DRAW

(By The Associated Press.)
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 18.—Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, today holds a draw with a possible shade, if any, over Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion as a result of their ten round no-decision contest decided in the open arena here last night.

Matt Hinkle, referee of the contest, said that if he had been permitted to give a decision, he would have declared the contest a draw. The newspaper experts, however, even those from Pittsburgh, were of the opinion that Tunney had the shade.

Tunney did most of his fighting at close range, while Greb swung his punches from all angles, missing frequently.

The tenth round was the most furious of the fight. Greb sailed into Tunney at the start, swinging his arms like flails, but Tunney came back and won the round by a furious attack that was still in progress when the bell rang. He caught Greb with a left hook that all but knocked him to the canvas.

Fight By Rounds.
Greb started out to carry the fight to Tunney, but was wild with right and left swings to the head, missing frequently. Tunney centered his attack on Greb's body.

Tunney had a clear advantage in the second. He waited for Greb to come in and punch him around the body with jolting right and left hooks.

Greb threw punches from every angle in the third, forcing Tunney to the ropes a couple of times to escape. The middleweight champion won the round by his aggressiveness.

Tunney took the speed out of Greb in the fourth, winning the round by a heavy assault. Tunney forced the Pittsburgher to break ground after he received a savage right under the heart.

Greb was the aggressor in the fifth. He reached Tunney with sweeping rights and lefts to the head while Tunney continued his body attack at close range.

Tunney had the shade in the sixth which was tame. He continued to pound Greb's body in the seventh and caused Harry to miss frequently with right and left swings to the head.

The seventh was fairly even and was fitted with lively exchanges. They were such a furious pace that neither heard the bell. An accidental touch of change punches until the referee separated them. Tunney's punches were more accurate, many of Greb's swings going around Gene's head and shoulders.

Greb opened up the eighth with a wild flurry and almost fell over the top rope when he missed a wild swing. Tunney carried the fight to him winning the round as the result of effective body punching. Greb complained to the referee that Greb was guilty of butting him with his head.

Greb reached Tunney with rights to the body and long lefts to the head in the ninth, shipping over the solid right to the chin as the bell sounded.

Greb flew into Tunney at the start of the tenth, scoring effectively but Gene drove him to the ropes later and won the round. The exchanges in the center of the ring on even terms, Tunney driving both fists to the body, whenever they tangled up.

RADICAL CHANGES IN FOOTBALL WILL BE IN EFFECT THIS SEASON

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Several radical changes in football rules, decided upon last winter by gridiron authorities, will be in effect during the coming season which gets into full swing the end of September.

Chief among changes are those abolishing kicking tees, barring "passing" from the line of scrimmage, shifting the try-for-point from the five to the three-yard line and other alterations designed to speed up the game.

A summary of changes follows:
In rule 1, section 3, the committee has added its approval to the so-called "offset" goal posts so that either straight line posts or offsets are legal.

In rule 2, section 3, there is an answer to the generally increasing complaint that certain stiff shoulder guards and protectors were dangerous. The committee has legislated that shoulder guards must be added out as well as inside and cleats must not be dangerously sharp, and has urged all officials to relentlessly enforce every phase of the rule relating to equipment.

Under rule 5 comes the elimination of tees. All tees are swept out of existence, but on place-kick a player may hold the ball on the ground for the kicker. The ball is now kicked off from the middle of the field instead of from the 40-yard line. Section 9 has been altered so that any part of the player's person being out of bounds counts just the same as the foot.

Under rule 9 the committee has practically placed shift plays in the hands of officials by legislating that players must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary in their positions sufficiently long to prevent any doubt in the minds of the officials as to the legality of the play.

Rule 10, the 3-yard line has been changed to the 5-yard line on a try-for-point after touchdown.

Rule 14 is the evidence of the committee's desire to speed up the game and prevent unnecessary and unreasonable delays. The official must arbitrarily call time whenever he thinks a tea mis unreasonably delaying putting the ball in play and may warn them or penalize them. In the case of calling of time for substitutions or for other reasons which appear to the official to be with the intent of lengthening the game, he may instruct the timekeeper not to stop the watch but let time run on. Captains may now ask that time be called four times in each half, but the penalty for a greater number of requests has been increased to five yards.

In rule 15, the screening of the forward pass has been checked by a ruling that ineligible players must keep out of the way of the players of the side which did not make the pass, else they are liable to a penalty for interfering with the defensive side's opportunity to reach the ball. The field judge and umpire both are to watch violations under section 3.

Rule 17, puts a stop to the receiver of the forward pass running out of bounds and then coming back into the field of play to receive the pass. Under this same rule the last 10-yard penalty remaining in the book has been changed to 15 yards, namely, intentional throwing a forward pass to the ground. It has been made legal to decline the penalty on a forward pass.

Rule 18, finishes up the entire matter relating to outside kicks. If a kicked ball crosses the scrimmage line, no one of the kicker's side can touch or recover the ball until it has touched an opponent, but any man may recover a kicked ball which has not crossed the line of scrimmage.

Rule 23, section 8—A foul committed behind the goal line which does not involve change of possession of the ball is penalized one-half distance to the goal line from the spot where the ball was put in play. Section 11, has been expanded by the instruction to the referee that he shall explain alternative penalties to the captain of the offended team.

Rule 24—The referee alone shall have a whistle, but a pistol is recommended to the timekeeper to notify the referee of the expiration of time.

MAYS IS REDS' STAR

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18.—Carl Mays wasn't good enough to pitch for the Yankees in the American League, so Miller Huggins turned him adrift.

It was the American League, however, that Mays' fast ball needed blessings. It seemed to have little else.

Mays went to Cincinnati in the National League a club with many star pitchers, including Donohue, Rye-

LUQUE and Benton. Hendricks, who managed the club, told interviewers in the spring he was not counting heavily on Mays. "If he comes through all right, if he doesn't we won't worry."

Mays was late starting, but once started he came with a rush. At times he has stood out as the star of the Reds' staff.

The submarine hurler has a chance to reach the twenty mark in victories. That is good pitching in any man's league.

CLASSIC PLAYS OF THE GRIDIRON

By W. H. SPAULDING

Minnesota and Wisconsin were playing a standoff game in the mud when the break came that produced one of the greatest plays I have ever seen on a football field.

Martineau, Minnesota's elusive half-back, had punted far to the left, and nearly out of bounds. So nearly, in fact, that Eklund, Minnesota left end, thought that Rolfe Williams, Wisconsin back, had stepped out of bounds in picking up the ball and allowed him to get away.

Williams had a clear field, and three interferences to take out Martineau, the only man blocking the path to a touchdown. And the score at the time was 0-0.

Things looked blue for Minnesota, as Minnesota, as Williams was running close to his interference and there seemed to be no chance for open champion who yesterday defeated Al Walrus, of Grand Rapids, played John Farrell, another New Yorker, who survived his match with Willie MacFarlane. In the same half of the draw Al Espinosa, of Chicago, as a result of a victory over Francis Gallet, of New York contended with Ray Der of Philadelphia. The latter caused a surprise yesterday when he defeated Bob Cruckshank, of New York.

Naholtz played Henry Clud, of New York, another golfer of Latin origin. The fourth match was between Emmett French of Oungstown, Ohio, and Jim Barnes of New York.

Martineau to sift through. Nor did it seem possible for him to go around the mase, for meantime Williams could use any one of his three interferences as a dodging post.

Down the field swept the flying Badgers. Martineau was moving out to meet them. They were about to brush him aside. And then he left his feet. Not around or through the interference, did Martineau attempt to go, but over the top. And down came Williams, an astonished man, 15 yards from a touchdown.

No one expected Martineau to make that play. Less great players would have been swept aside. But Martineau had the courage and resourcefulness to face the obstacle that was apparently unarmountable—and conquer. And there's just the difference between greatness and mediocrity, in football or out. The heart for greatness recognizes no defeat.

SPECIAL COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE, NEAR THE CITY OF DANVILLE

Pursuant to the terms of a decree entered in the chancery court of Walter L. Seay, etc., vs. Hazel Seay, at the May, 1924, term of the Circuit Court of Pittsylvania County, I shall sell at public auction, on the premises, on all of that certain tract of land, situated in Pittsylvania County, about two and one-half (2½) miles west of Schoolfield, containing about 150 acres, formerly belonging to Mrs. Nannie R. Seay. Said land will be divided into nine lots, each containing five or eight acres of land, fronting on the Wilson Ferry road and running back therefrom, toward the river, about from 1,400 to 1,500 feet deep. One of said lots is the home place of Matuyama Maru, a stoker named Fukuko, who was picked up on a raft after eight days with no food and little water.

Saturday, September 20, 1924, at 3 O'clock, P. M.,

After the bidding on said land by lots, it will be offered as a whole. If the offer for the whole exceeds the aggregate price of the lots, this offer will be accepted; otherwise the sale by lots will stand.

TERMS—One-third cash, with the residue of the purchase money payable in six and twelve months. Date of sale, evidenced by interest-bearing notes. Title will be retained until all of purchase money shall be paid.

JULIAN MEADE, Special Commissioner. Map of the above property may be seen at the office of Meade & Meade, in the Masonic Building, Danville, Va.

State of Virginia, County of Pittsylvania, To-Wit:

Proper bond, as required in said decree, has been executed before me by said Commissioner. Given under my hand this 4th day of June, 1924.

DOOMED SAILORS SET AFLOAT LAGASAKI, Japan, Sept. 17.—A grim message of farewell from the Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Matuyama Maru, which foundered and went down with 57 men the night of July 11 about 150 miles southwest of Nagasaki, has been picked up off Kyushu. A lifeboat, almost the only trace of the ill-fated vessel picked up by searching ships, was found, bearing the words, "The Matuyama Maru has gone to her death."

There was only one survivor of the Matuyama Maru, a stoker named Fukuko, who was picked up on a raft after eight days with no food and little water.

After the bidding on said land by lots, it will be offered as a whole. If the offer for the whole exceeds the aggregate price of the lots, this offer will be accepted; otherwise the sale by lots will stand.

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Shortly after the opening of the market yesterday I wired you the stock exchange there was a strong opinion that the market had turned definitely for another advance. I think political conditions are just a little bit too uncertain at the moment to warrant so confident an expression. The bullish influence all the while has been abundant money and the continued acting influence has been in politics. There has as yet been no change in either. The market became very dull which was unusual considering the important matters pending and was probably overdone. This in turn will be corrected on a good bulge but I doubt very much whether we will have a prolonged advance while the election results are uncertain. I think it will be just as well to sell a part of your holdings on an advance as to buy some stocks on a break.

MORNING GRAIN LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—There being no items of news responsible for yesterday's decline in wheat it follows that it was simply a matter of technical position of the market. Therefore, quickly corrected. We are still confronted with a four hundred million smaller world crop than last year even by crediting Argentina with bumper yield and that crop has two months of uncertainty ahead. Conservative accumulation of holdings seems proper.

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The advancing tendency of the market continues in Liverpool this morning. There has been a considerable change in sentiment here the last couple of days but not to the extent of taking a definitely bullish view of the present cotton situation. It is rather a general agreement that recovery was in order on technical conditions. The future of the market is still dependant on the size of the crop and uncertainty as to what the next government will be is the influence in the short interest. I think that further short covering may be expected.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—The cotton market opened very steady in sympathy with higher Liverpool cables than due. First trades showed gains of 20 to 23 points. Overnight and early morning advances indicated more than a temporary recovery in both western and extreme eastern belt. Spot advances were also favorable, being generally believed that considerable September commitments still remained to be filled. October traded at 21.70, December 21.82 and January 21.98 or 22 to 23 points above the previous close and prices continued steady during the early trading.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Reports that rains were delaying the picking of cotton in the south and slowing down the movement, combined with relatively steady Liverpool cables, seemed responsible for an opening advance of 17 to 25 points in the cotton market here today. There was less hedge selling, which was supposed to reflect the delay in picking. Covering also was promoted by uncertainty as to the showing of the government crop report to be published early next week.
October sold up to 22.53 and December to 22.13 making net advances of about 28 to 31 points on active months, but at these figures offerings increased and there were reactions of several points during the early trading.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Stock prices responded at the opening today's market to a renewal of speculative operations for the rise, aided by active short covering. American Can, U. S. Steel, Studebaker and Baldwin eclipsed yesterday's high levels, leading a varied group of popular industrial upstarts. American Tobacco "B" rose 2 points and Laclede Gas 1 1/2.
Heavy buying was concentrated in industrial specialties in the first half hour, with a number of shares evidently reflecting a resumption of pool operations. Motor and accessory stocks were benefited by large scale purchasing, as were tobacco and selected public utility shares. Federal Light and Traction and Shute Tobacco advanced more than 2 points each and gains of 1 to 2 points were scored by Goodrich common and preferred, United Drug, National Lead, Stewart-Warner, American Express, International Paper, Associated Dry Goods, and American Tobacco. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

La Follette Will Speak Tonight at Madison Square

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Senator La Follette, independent candidate for president, timed his departure today for New York to address a Madison Square Garden rally tonight so that he would reach his destination just before the meeting. On his arrival in New York he planned to take a brief rest before going to the mammoth auditorium.

The speech Senator La Follette will deliver is the first to be addressed by him to an audience since he announced a presidential candidacy. It was prepared with unusual care and indications were that it would take the senator an hour or more to complete delivery.

While in New York, Mr. La Follette expects to confer with a number of supporters, among them President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, whom he has not seen since the Federation's Executive Council endorsed the candidacy of himself and his running mate, Senator Wheeler of Montana.

Ex-Postmaster Is Freed of Charge

(By The Associated Press.)

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18.—French A. Taylor, former postmaster at West Point, who was arrested last week after a shortage of $1,600 was discovered in his accounts, was dismissed today after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Melvin Flegenheimer here yesterday. It was shown at the hearing that the money at the postoffice passed through the hands of several clerks and the commission held no evidence was introduced to connect any individual with the shortage.

Balance and preferred dividends were $3,334,728 equivalent to $29.24 a share on the common stock compared with $8,512,130 or $18.30 a share the year before.

Heir to British Throne Plans to Return to America to Study Conditions and Meet Working Men and Women of United States.

(By The Associated Press.)

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The Prince of Wales is anxious. It was learned today, to return to the United States at a later date to visit the great industrial centers and farming communities to become acquainted at first hand with industrial conditions and to meet American working men and women.

The prince has long meditated such a trip and the project has grown in his mind as a result of the numerous invitations he has received this summer from all parts of the North American continent, showing that a tour of industrial exploration would be as welcome to his American hosts as to him.

Although the prince's present visit has been almost entirely a holiday one it has been pointed out by those who have known him in England and in this country that his stay on Long Island he has made many interesting acquaintances and above all he has met the president and several cabinet members personally.

The contemplated tour of factories and farms would be similar to the one he has made in the industrial cities of Great Britain since the war when he spent long periods going through work shops and talking with the people employed in them.

On these trips in the manufacturing towns of the English Midlands the prince often remarked to his companions "It's the people, not the plant that I want to see."

His acquaintances point out, is the dominant element in all his tours and this is held to account for his extraordinary personal popularity—the interest that he takes in the affairs of the labor and working world and the amusement of those with whom he comes in contact. This is the case, it is pointed out, whether he visits workshops, farms or country houses.

In making of friendships and extensive acquaintance with men in all parts of the world and a personal knowledge of conditions in foreign countries is naturally an important element in the education of a future king of Great Britain and of the dominions beyond the seas. It is considered his most important business today and one that will help him to more than make up for the loss of the scholarship that comes from an academic career. It is considered the part of the Prince of Wales to carry on the traditions of his father, George V., and his grandfather, the late Edward VII and to become a successful constitutional king by reason of his education in practical human affairs. Including sports, which play a great part in the national life and to be acquainted with all sorts and conditions of men within the British empire and outside it.

In this way, equipped with a first-hand knowledge of foreign countries, it is held, he will be able to do much more when he ascends the throne, to assist his ministers who will not all have benefited by the extensive experience that he has had.

As one of his acquaintances has put it: "Whatever he does, he does with keenness and vigor, whether it be riding and dancing, as on this visit to Long Island, the main object of which was to encourage the British polo team in its efforts to win the cup, or whether it be attending public functions in his own country, presiding at meetings of charitable institutions, such as King Edwards hospital, or attending to the affairs of London's largest sports, such as a Guy's and St. Bartholomew's with which he is closely connected."

"With all these various interests his life is a very full one and he has little time to give to reading, but he is a great reader, though he is interested in certain kinds of current literature, especially biographies of public men whom he has known in the course of his travels. He is a good French scholar, reading and speaking the language fluently, but the study of books does not appeal to him so much as the study of men, whose views and opinions he can rapidly absorb and retain."

To this he much resembles his grandfather, Edward VII, whose judgment and tact, derived almost entirely from the constant and close study of human nature, made him one of the most popular sovereigns of the world. It is this love of frank humanity that has inspired in the prince a real affection for America and the Americans. This trait recalls his grandfather's sincerity and simplicity of character, which endeared him to his own countrymen and similarly endears the prince with all with whom he comes in contact.

MORNING SUGAR LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Practically no business in spot raws has developed during the past three days, owing principally to a disappointing refined demand. Similar conditions prevail in the London market. The substantial long speculative position built up on expectations of a shortage toward the end of the year shows signs of uneasiness and a continuation of the liquidation so noticeable during the past few days will likely continue unless an unexpected demand develops. Selling on the bulges, we believe, is advisable.
